

Is Unemployment Measured Correctly?

No. There are three problems with the way we measure unemployment

1. Discouraged Worker Effect

2. Some part time workers are classified as “employed”
even though they should be classified as “unemployed”

3. Underemployed workers are classified as "employed"
even though they should be classified as "unemployed"

Is Unemployment Measured Correctly?

No. There are three problems with the way we measure unemployment

1. Discouraged Worker Effect
2. Some part time workers are classified as "employed" even though they should be classified as "unemployed"
3. Underemployed workers are classified as "employed" even though they should be classified as "unemployed"